

#NationalVoterRegistrationDay – On Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, and Tumblr at NatVoterRegDay

Dear National Voter Registration Day partner!

Enclosed is your “care package” to get started on making your National Voter Registration Day event visible in your community. The quantity and languages enclosed are based on the email we sent you earlier, and any response you may have given. Please note that items like t-shirts and hats purchased from the CafePress store will be shipped separately. If you have questions, you can email info@nationalvoterregistrationday.org.

You’ll notice the posters are double-sided. The idea for the front side to be visible at your office, campus, community, etc. prior to Sept. 26th with details for your event in the blank space. Then on National Voter Registration Day, you can flip it over and add some information about your local elections, local organizations, etc.

Think you will need more materials? It’s too late to order from our store, but you can download printable PDFs from NationalVoterRegistrationDay.org/partner-toolkit/posters/. If you need large quantities, contact us about expedited shipping from our remaining stock.

To help you get ready for September 26th, we’ve created a Partner Toolkit at NationalVoterRegistrationDay.org/partner-toolkit where you will find organizer toolkits, rules for doing voter registration drives in your state, communication toolkits, sample social media graphics, sample press releases, and more.

Because 2017 is mostly about local elections, be sure to get informed about exactly what is on your local ballot. You can find this out by contacting your local registrar, and at the same time talk with them about getting blank forms (if you’re using paper) and the process for returning them. Keep a count of registrations you collect so you can report that number later.

Are you organizing an event in your community? Please take a moment to enter that event on our events tool at NationalVoterRegistrationDay.org/events. As events are entered, you can search for others near you to increase coordination.

And lastly, keep your eye out for the end-of-project survey and report. We will send this to you prior to September 26th so you can quickly share the successes of your events. The sooner we get them back from you, the sooner we can celebrate our collective success!

Thanks for your participation and leadership in this important holiday!
